The main trouble in a thing of this is kind is that there are so many good men. So many men of even ability that some of them must be eliminated, and it is this elimination process that takes so much time. Some few weeks ago several writers broke forth with selections of all-eastern and all-western trapshooting teams, and in the main these teams were chosen from the highest ten men from each section in the averages. Very few writers differed on the teams—but in picking u representative team of the nation there will be quite a difference of opinion, so the writer goes to it first to give all the others a chance to shoot his team to pieces—if they can.

Here are the teams—ten amateur and the same number of professionals, teams which if combined could defeat any twenty trapshooters on the face of the globe:

this is the time of year when dealers have the greatest number of used cars on hand. This operates to the financial benefit of the purchaser.

Of still greater importance, however, is the fact that the intending buyer of a used car should make up his mind to do business only with a recognized and established dealer in automobiles. The man who makes a permanent business of selling automobiles has a moral obligation to fulfil with his client that has an important relation to the purchaser's investment.

Still others, with the summer and fall seasons gone, have no further use for the vehicle they used and are willing to

So the family that looks around now has a wider field to choose from and can certainly make a better financial deal than could be made in the spring, when the demand is brisk. You don't see many second-hand cars for sale in the dealer showrooms after May 1.

While the average buyer is inclined to be skeptical about a used car, he t to be skeptical about a used car, he need not necessarily be too skeptical. There are many fine bargains to be had, and the new driver can with much advantage to himself start in with a less carlly used car.

Many of the cars offered are in excellent condition. It has been said by engineers that an automobile is in better condition after it has been driven 10,000 or 15,000 miles than it was when new, if the use it has seen has been anything like ordinary wear. However, the advantage gained through dealing with an established automobile man lies in the fact that the dealer is as considerate of his statements to the buyer of a used machine as he se to the man who takes a new car off to the man who takes a new car off his floor—possibly more so, for the new car speaks for itself.
